

Jorge Zurita

Echoic Networks

Sculpture Score to remember and create sensory experiences

People are invited to contemplate the sculpture – score taking into account the following instructions:

By observing the objects that each box contains, you can imagine the sound that every object can or could produce. Each object can also be a sound exciter for another or imagine forms of vibratory production that could not happen in the physical world: the sound of a swarm amplified by a sea shell.

The duration of this gesture is free.

It is possible to generate a sound simultaneity of them.

It will be possible to make impossible combinations in real life such as a sound produced by a wood beetle, a string of screws, a tar speaker, etc.

Total duration: Undetermined, whatever the performers or participants decide.

